

David Stine is an award-winning maker of custom, natural wood furniture for residential, commercial, and hospitality clients.

Using hardwoods sustainably harvested from his family forests, his designs showcase the natural beauty of the wood and the harmony of craftsmanship.

Whether it's a single, signature piece or 300 items for an office, David works closely with his clients to craft pieces that enhance their surroundings and articulate their vision. Every client receives David's undivided attention and unparalleled customer service.

Handcrafted. Custom-made.
It's real American furniture.

"I was born and raised on the land from which I harvest the wood I use in my work. I grew up on a dairy farm where my grandfather and father taught me woodworking. We repaired furniture and fences and built tables, cabinets, bookcases, and beds. I fell in love with taking something so simple and natural—a piece of wood—and crafting something beautiful and useful from it.

That joy never left me. I started David Stine Furniture while I was a law student 25 years ago. In 2002, after practicing law in DC, I decided to devote myself full-time to woodworking. My wife and I moved back to the family farm in Illinois, to the land that I love so much. I am the fourth generation to steward this land, and I am honored to do so.

The land is both the source of my lumber and my inspiration. Being so close to the wood—from stewarding it to harvesting it to milling it—informs my work in the most natural, harmonious way. Every piece I craft is an articulation of the land itself."

—David Stine

"Authenticity, integrity, sustainability, and quality aren't buzzwords to me. They are the cornerstones of my business. This is real American furniture from a company that prides itself on serving the needs of our clients. We respect the materials we use and we love what we do. And it shows in everything we make."

—David Stine

"My work showcases the natural beauty of the wood. I don't bend the wood to my will. I let it be what it wants to be. I do what few other furniture makers do—I live with and sustainably harvest the wood I use in my work. These aren't just materials to me. These trees are part of my life. I draw inspiration from how and where they grew. My intention is to craft something extraordinary, something that testifies to the grace and majesty of the tree, which lives on in a beautiful and useful way."

—David Stine

OUR FINISHES

We offer two standard finish options:

OUR PROPRIETARY HAND-RUBBED OIL FINISH

- A beautiful silky-smooth finish which seals the wood and prevents rings and stains. This is the finish we've developed over 25 years, and it is the gold standard in the industry. It involves a two-step proprietary process: the wood is sealed and then a hand-rubbed oil is applied for the final step. This is the finish we recommend.
- Advantages: extremely matte but not dull. The wood is protected, the natural wood shows through, it looks and feel silky smooth, and it wears beautifully over time. If you scratch the surface, it can be spot treated rather than having to re-finish the entire piece.
- Disadvantages: None.

SATIN LACQUER

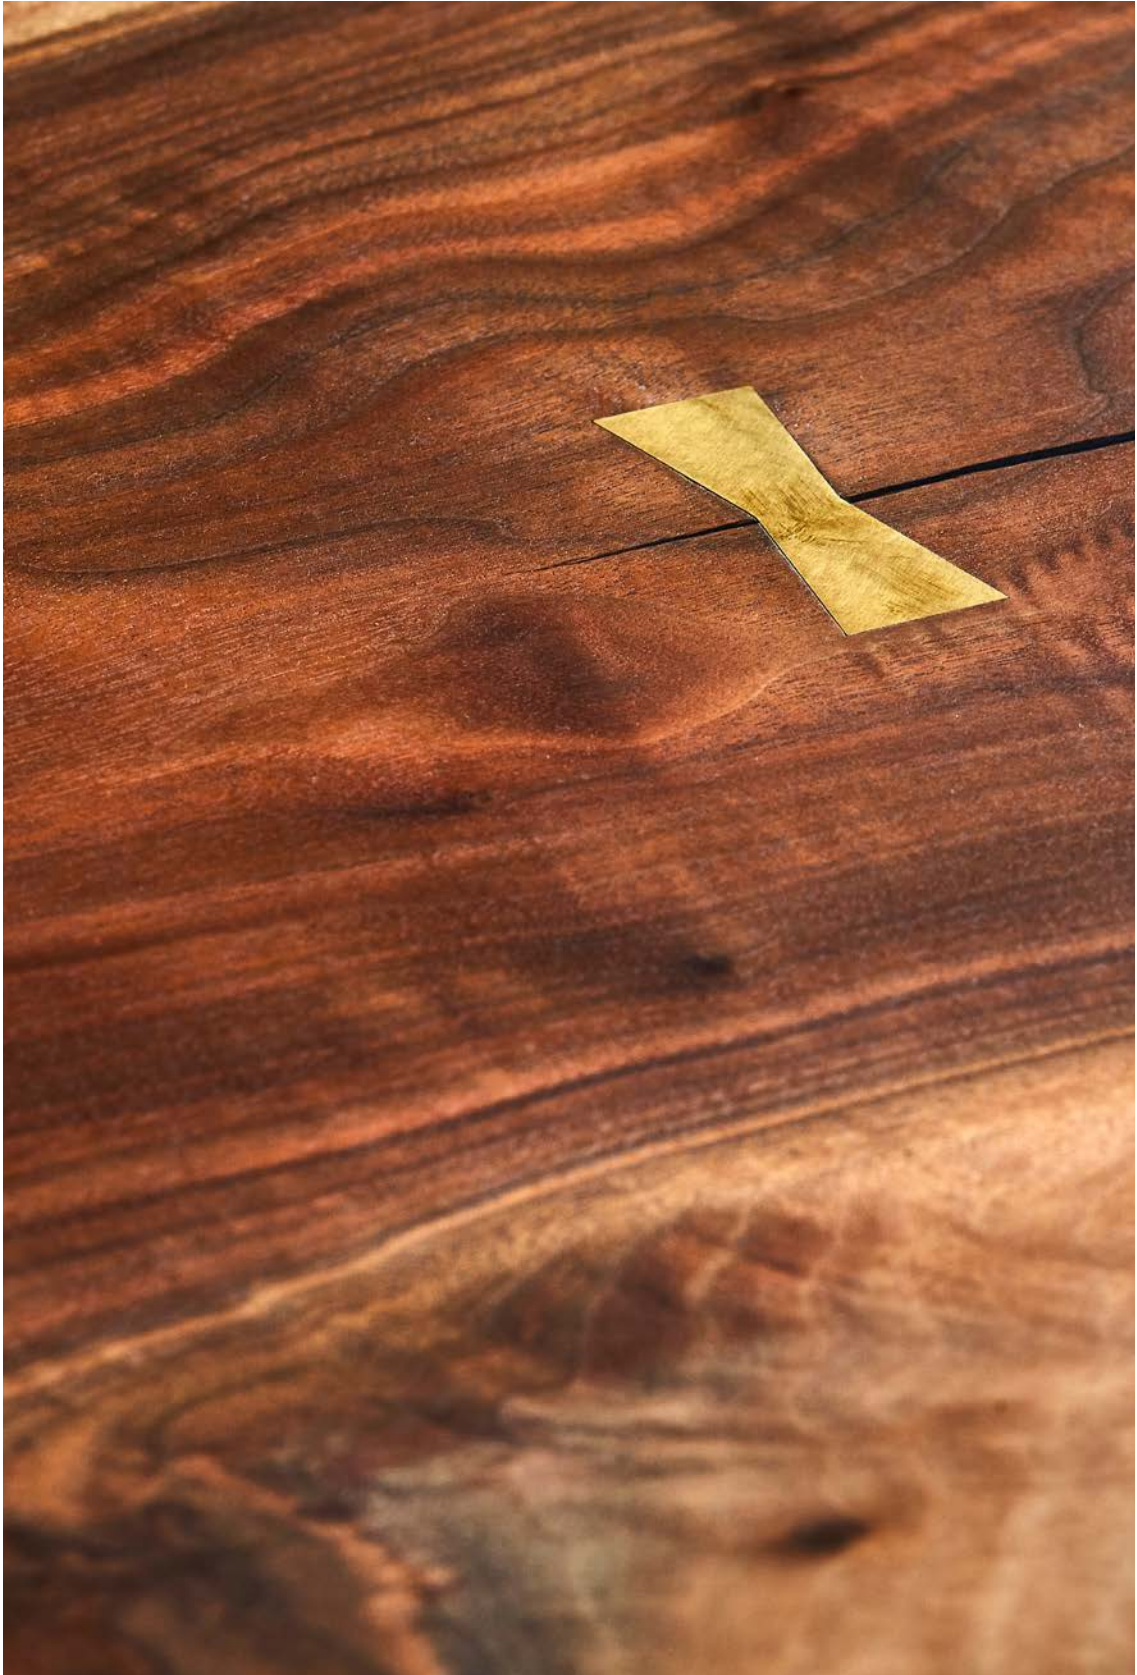

- A film-based finish applied directly on top of the wood. Though it is satin, it has a slight sheen to it. It is shinier than our oil finish.
- Advantages: Slick(er) top
- Disadvantages: Cannot be spot treated; if scratched the entire top will need to be refinished.

BLACKENED + DARKENED

- Any of our woods can be blackened or darkened, then finished with either of the above finishes. A $150-$500 upcharge applies.

SPECIALTY

- We generally do not offer specialty finishes, but inquiries are welcome.

Our bases are custom-made for every item. Standard styles include legs, pedestals, slabs, and trestles in wood or steel. Custom designs, materials, and powder coating available.
